Enforcing Judgments

- Judgments are not self-enforcing
- In Australia Capital Territory, the life of a judgment is 12 years.
- Interest runs at the current rate of 8.5% p.a. (subject to change but will always exceed bank deposit rates).
- The Mendelsons Fixed Price Fully Inclusive Legal Solutions covers all costs, including disbursements but is based on you providing a copy of the judgment and the information you provide being correct.

Summons For Oral Examination

- The Summons for Oral Examination (SOE) is prepared by us, issued by the Court and served personally on the debtor.
- The SOE compels the debtor to attend Court on a specified day.
- Many debtors will pay up to avoid the trauma of going to Court.
- If the debtor does not make any payment, they will be questioned on oath about their financial affairs and we can request for specific questions to be asked.
- The answers will be provided to Mendelsons Lawyers and a copy will be given to you.
- In addition, an arrest order will usually be made if the debtor fails to turn up.

Garnishee Of Wages

- Garnishee of Wages is an Order from the Court to the debtor's employer.
- The employer will be ordered to deduct a specified sum from the debtor's wages to settle the debt and to forward the money to us.
- The Court will award costs of the Application against the debtor.
- Garnishee of Wages is a useful procedure if the debtor is in a stable employment. In such event, the debt will usually be recovered but it may be over a long period.
- If the debtor leaves his job, the Order will lapse.
- The fee does not cover attendances for collecting and monitoring the payments. Payments can either be made directly to you or we will discuss a fee if you wish us to handle them.
- High success rate.

Writ of Execution

- The Warrant is prepared by us and issued by the Court, which is then sent to the Sheriff.
- The Sheriff will visit the debtor and seek payment or alternatively, seize goods owned by the debtor and sell them.
- Additional costs are awarded against the debtor.

- This procedure is effective only if the debtor possess goods which can be seized and are of value.
- It is most effective where the debtor is a business owner.
